The End of the Reign of "Two-Toes"

FT in the stilly night—as the literary ladies say—his voice was heard calling to the pack. While his enemy, Man, slept or disported himself in the night clubs or the speakeasies of the community, he led his fellows in raids on the farmers' herds. Early after the evening shadows had fallen his form could be seen silhouetted against the starlit night, his head raised, his broad chest heaving as he called the clan from the surrounding woods.

"Two toes" was the leader by virtue of his strength and his cunning. For 10 years he had preyed upon sheep, goats, cows and even bulls had been pulled down by him and his companions in the hunt. Men had set cruel steel traps for him and, in a moment of carelessness, he had stepped into one of them. It meant the loss of a part of his foot or of his life. So he accepted the former, hence the name "Two-toes."

But this "King of the Timber Wolves" made the mistake of which so many humans are guilty, he failed to add new tricks to the stock he had on hand. So when men and dogs gathered Thursday in Cross county to plot his capture, he was unprepared. He tried the old deception of doubling back on his tracks, but that fooled his pursuers not one bit. He waded streams to throw them off the scent, but relentlessly they pressed on.

On and on through the woods he ran with his nemesis gaining at every leap. Finally, wearied and perhaps heartbroken, "Two-toes" admitted defeat by seeking safety in a hollow log. There the men and dogs found him and today he is a captive in the Memphis zoo, an exiled leader whose days are but hours of being stared at by the curious mob.

Morai: No matter how clever you may be, if the right pursuers start after you your race soon will have been run.-Arkansas Democrat.

Information is that the picture is a welcome relief from the time-worn drawing room dramas which have been flourishing on the screen for some time, in the respect that it was filmed almost entirely out of doors and in a section of the country rarely used as a locale for film plots. This was in the San Jacinto mountains, 200 miles north of Los Angeles and 5.000 feet above sea level. It is said that this site was expressly chosen for the magnificent views afforded the

IF YOU MADE up your mind to produce the best cigarette ever smoked . . . wouldn't you begin by selecting the choicest tobaccos in all the world?... Wouldn't you spend time and money without stint to discover and develop the one most perfect blend?... Of course you would. And that's exactly what Camel did. That's why Camel so quickly became the most popular cigarette in America. your crops enough NITROGEN?

is the GROWTH ELEMENT As essential as sunshine to growing crops. Be sure your crops get pleasy of nitrogen both in the complete fertilizer anting time and as top-dressing during the growing season.

FARMERS everywhere know that nitrogen is the fertilizer element that makes plants grow.

But not all farmers know when and how to use nitrogen so as to get hest results. Some use it merely in their mixed fertilizer at planting time. Others use it as top-dressing or side-dressing after the plants are up.

There are many farmers, however, who have found that it pays, and pays big, to do both. At planting time they use a complete fertilizer-rich in nitrogen. Then when the young plants begin to feed heavily, they put out a side-dressing or top-dressing of Arcadian Sulphate of Ammonia.

It's the nitrogen in the fertilizer applied before growth begins that gives the young plants a firm stand. And whatever your crop-corn, grain, fruit or truck products-it's the nitrogen in the top-dressing applied after growth is well started that boosts the stand along to early maturity and a bumper yield.

These are facts which you can easily verify by writing to your State Agricultural Experiment Station or by demonstrating for yourself.

Arcadian comes in triple-ply, moisture-proof bags. It is always fine and dry, and easy to distribute. The nitrogen's all soluble, all quickly usable thy the plants.

Farmers, let us know if we can help

To be sure of your supply-order Arcadian from your dealer when you buy your mixed fertilizer. Farmers everywhere are invited to write to The Barrett Company for helpful information about their nitrogen fertilizer problems. Address our nearest office,

Saenger to Make Improvements

Walls to be Draped---New Screen and Lenses Ordered

Extensive improvements will be nade in the quality of sound for the talking and singing pictures presented by the Paramount company at the local Publix-Saenger theatre, Manager Matt Press announced today

Western Electric sound engineers who have been studying the local theatre for several months have completed their report for the Publi: company, and orders for materials have been placed and are on their way here. The company has ordered the following for the Hope theatre: Over 3,600 square feet of Balsan wool to deaden the walls. Over 400 square yards of dyed burlap, rose-colored, to cover the Balsam wool once it has been put in place. These materials were ordered on the recommendation of the Western Elecric engineers who are constantly inspecting Publix theatres to study the effect of high-priced equipment in many show-houses not originally buit for spoken plays.

Manager Press said that with the nstallation of the above materials it had four feet-its legs were nothing to excite Mr. Zeigfield. e believed the last bit of rebound er echo would be eliminated. No surface noise is ever apparent in the number of years under the cognomen Western Electric equipment which the Snenger is equipped, but of "Cryptobranchus Alleghaniensis."ilmost everywhere that sound picermen and boys its more common ures have been introduced, even in orand new theatres, there has been a and weekday names include "hellertain amount of trouble until the bender," "water dog" and "mud puptheatre's walls could be treated with ound-deadening material.

The local Saenger theatre, built by . P. Brundidge for the Saenger Amusement company two years ago, and acquired by the Publix company in its purchase of the Saenger inerests last fall, is regarded as the argest and finest theatre in Arkansas. its presentations are equal in both quality and freshness to the best atractions of the largest cities in the country, and it is a notable showplace for Southwest Arkansas.

Manager Press said today that besides the sound-material, his company nas ordered a new screen, and new enses for the Simplex projectors. Some Brandeur effects—the wideangle screen, with the illusion lepth and a third dimension-will be possible with the new equipment, olhough this will not be available in standard films, the process being still n the experimental stage.

With this announcement," said Mr. Press. "I want to call attention to the fact that it is the Publix company's policy to secure the very best product, and give the best presentation, for all of its theatres, regardless ceived a case of Challie, in assorted of size or location.
